FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

“Why do I need professional financial coaching?”

Your needs are as unique as your specific situation: you’re falling more behind in your bills each month; you’ve tried “budgeting” but could never make it work; you always seem to have a nothing in your savings account; you may pay your debts, but can’t make any headway toward retirement, saving for the future or your kids’ education. Basically, you’d like a professional “coach” to help you implement a plan that really works for the long-haul, while you enjoy life along the way.

“Will my personal finances be kept confidential?”

Absolutely. It is our policy to protect the privacy and confidentiality of all our clients. Your information will be shared with no one.

“Do you only coach those in financial hardship?”

No. We provide coaching to the financially secure as well as those with current challenges. We coach those with significant net worth to use sound principles and decision making to steward their finances well and build wealth. We are able to do this since we sell no financial products or services (investments, insurance, etc.) therefore providing wise, objective insight for your consideration.

ABOUT US

McGuire Coaching LLC is the product of many years of experience teaching, consulting, and mentoring individuals to enjoy all aspects of their lives. Whether they have needs in finances, money management, career dissatisfaction, or in general life issues; McGuire Coaching LLC has developed a structured plan to work your way to a better and more fulfilling life.

McGuire Coaching LLC has also developed a structure plan for improving your business, which in turn will improve your life. We can develop a plan that will enhance your revenue, reprioritize your time, and enable you to realize the dream you have for your business.

The Founder, Gregg McGuire, has been involved in the financial industry for over 24 years. This experience includes working in the banking industry as a Commercial Loan Officer, Vice President, and Regional Manager for two large banks.
